Description

These beautiful Trulli homes are part of an elegant complex composed of five charming and well restored Trulli and are perfectly located on the top of a hill , with spectacular views over the apulian countryside and the mediterranean sea which is only 7 Km away.

This part of land , not far away from the famous 'white town of Ostuni ' and the worldly famous 'Alberobello' , is known to have the highest concentration of trulli of the entire region. These characteristic structures are made of conical roofs built out of blocks of white calcareous stone, and crowned by curious pinnacles of all different shapes. They have metre-thick walls, either white or in warm colours, which keep the inside cool during the heat of summer, and warm in winter

It is absolutely a wonderful experience for guests spending a vacation in a Trullo and live like many locals still do and many others have done for centuries.
