Description

Villa MASSA , is one of the most prestigious historical places to stay in Sorrento area: in a setting befitting of a king, it combines elegance and class with peace and harmony. With these characteristics, it is a fantastic setting for memorable vacations also because of its unique location on the extreme tip of the peninsula .

Suspended between history and nature, with magnificent and breathtaking views over Capri island and Mediterranean blue sea, with its frescoed ceilings and stylish decoration, make it a great place to leap back into the past and relax, away from the chaos of the town.

historical 18th century residence of Villa Murat offers hospitality and courtesy in a refined and comfortable atmosphere. Although it does not have air conditioning, the particular location of the villa on the extreme tip of the Annunziata promontory means it is constantly cooled by a pleasant natural breeze all day.

Particularly noteworthy is the "Murat suite," where the King of Naples, Joachim Murat, stayed in 1808 during the French fighting to recapture Capri, and which today still has the original decoration, frescoes and terracotta flooring.
